

Project Management

Services	Description
Project & Program Management	IT project management is the process of planning, organizing and delineating responsibility for the completion of an organizations' specific information technology (IT) goals.
Project Delivery	Delivering project according agreed project plan as per industry standard and practices.