

Maintenance

Services	Description
IT Health Reporting	An IT Health Check gives you assurance that the company's external systems have been fully protected from any unauthorized changes or access and that there is no possibility of unauthorized entry into the system.
Hardware and System software maintenance	Hardware maintenance and support services are preventive and remedial services that physically repair or optimize hardware, including contract maintenance and per-incident repair.